Product Manager

Full time – Copenhagen department

RushFiles is looking for a talented individual to join our passionate team. Ideal candidates are comfy in a dynamic start-up environment, and have previous work experience with product management in the IT/SaaS/Cloud industry.

The Role:

You'll be assuring RushFiles delivers the best possible app suite for all platforms.

Your primary responsibilities are:

- External market and industry information collection
- Product roadmap and backlog management
- Product evangelist, supporting Sales and Marketing teams
- Project Management, ad hoc tasks

Information collection

A major source of information comes from dialogue with our Partners. As PM you must consider it a natural part of your position to engage with Partners to discuss product and services while possessing intimate knowledge of the competitor offerings. It is key to collect all relevant information and boil it into a roadmap.

Product roadmap

As product manager you're in full control of the products roadmap and backlog.

At any given time you need to have a one-year roadmap, aligned with the overall strategy, ahead of you.

Similarly you must have a confirmed 3-month roadmap ahead of you detailing projects and features groomed and approved by the management team.

This must be validated by Sales and/or RushFiles partners.

You also need to control and maintain the feature request backlog for all platforms, while verifying bugs with Support, Sales and the Development team.

Product evangelist

Evangelism is about selling the dream – internal as well as external. It's about helping Partners and the RushFiles team to imagine the future, and inspire them to help create that future.

Project management

For all projects not related to software product development, the Product Manager also acts as project manager.

About you:

You have 10 years' experience in product management, and have proven hands-on experience with multiple release cycles of IT software products where you had an impact in defining the feature set.

Furthermore, you have a minimum of 5 years' experience of working with partner companies in a structured approach – preferably in the IT/SaaS/Cloud services area, ideally with B2B solutions.

In addition you need to:

- Be fluent in English, verbal and written
- Have a relevant academic background
- Epitomize excellent collaboration skills
- Be highly structured and analytical
- Have a keen appreciation of industry trends and strategies
- Be used to do engaging presentations and author product webinars
- Cloud services-savvy is a plus
